Dearest Alice,
I don't hardly
know what to say
but I know one thing,
we sure had some fine times
in Doc. South Gen. Science Lab.
I don't forget, I was the last one to write a note and I'm still expecting an answer from you. The next time you got that up all you have to do is "buzz me!" If you don't know my number, come on over, you don't have to call at all!

George Allen

Alice Honey,
you are a fine girl.
I have had lots of fun
with you in school.
You are sweet, cute, nice,
and all that stuff. Be good always and lots
of luck -

Love ya,
Gloria Munge

Alice Nivens

Long luck
to a sweet girl
Jimmy Love

Alice,
I wish you loads of success and happiness in your future years.
I know you will
the passed years.
Loads of luck
and love,

Glenn Bati

HARDING HIGH SCHOOL
CHARLOTTE, N. C.

FOREWORD

ANOTHER school year draws to a close, and the Seniors of the Class of 1947 go out to make their way in the world. To keep school days at Harding fresh in mind, may this edition of the ACORN serve as a Memory Book for the 1946-1947 term. The purpose of this Memory Book is to recall familiar faces of school friends, classmates, and faculty members; to recollect participation in clubs, organizations, and sports; and to remind us of hard work mixed with play.

For her patience and kindness in guiding and advising the Senior Class, her service and co-operation with all school activities, and her unending effort to make Harding a better school, we take pleasure in dedicating this, the 1947 ACORN, to

MRS. WILLIE S. SHORE

HISTORY

We, the Class of 1947, have had the most diversified experiences of any class that has ever graduated from Harding High School. We started out in 1941 with peace in these United States of ours. We traveled through a World War the like of which the world has never seen and are graduating in a year of, we hope, peace and prosperity.

We entered the seventh grade small in stature but high in spirits. Although we came from many different schools, it wasn't long until we became a united group of friends. Under the leadership of Eugene Jackson and Barbara Henly, presidents during the first and second semesters respectively, we established a reputation for scholarship and school spirit.

During our eighth grade we saw many of our fellow students going to war, but we as children were contented to stay in school organizing our classes and societies. We had a few of our number in the orchestra, band, Junior Student Council, and twenty-two members of our class were tapped into the Junior Honor Society. With Donald Neal as our class president we were growing better and bigger.

Frank Roberts was elected to lead us through our Freshman Year. The ninth grade was beginning to be known, and quite a number of the Junior and Senior boys were giving our girls the grand rush. This was our year of ruling the Junior High School, and we really enjoyed it.

We entered the tenth grade with Barry Payne as our leader and worked hard to co-operate with the war effort as much as possible by selling war bonds and stamps and by collecting paper. We had representatives on every committee, club, and organization and were beginning to be known as the smartest class in school with many of our classmates being inducted into the Senior Honor Society.

The eleventh grade found us living in a world at peace. Frank Roberts was again elected president, and we were ready to get busy. We were proud of the showing our class made in football, basketball, and baseball. We had many members to attend the music festival at Greensboro, coming home with our share of honors. Great excitement was in the air over the plans for the Junior-Senior Banquet, which was given in the gymnasium and was so successful that we mentally patted ourselves on the back for our originality and versatility. The choosing of Junior Marshals was another eventful day, but the selection of class rings awakened us to the fact that we would soon be seniors.

Entering school as dignified seniors, we elected Joe Church to lead us through this year of our most precious memories. From the opening day until the night of graduation we seemed to be able only to study and pay out money. First, we made the final payment on our rings, next we ordered our cards and invitations, then finally we were measured for caps and gowns. Our Senior Play, "The Patsy," proved a great success, and we helped to stage the first Student Council Congress Harding has ever entertained in its twelve years. Our excitement grew steadily from the Junior-Senior Banquet on to the Baccalaureate Sermon, then to Class Day exercises, and finally to the greatest climax, Graduation Night.

As we pass into history, beloved teachers and fellow students,

"There comes over us a feeling of sadness
That is not akin to pain,
But resembles sorrow only
As the mist resembles the rain."

WALLACE BURGESS, Class Historian, 1947

PROPHECY

November 19, 1954

Mr. Fred Culbreth
F.B.I. (Fred's Bureau of Income Tax Collecting)

DEAR FRED,

I was very glad to hear from you the other day. I see that you have followed in your father's footsteps of tax collecting. You know, perhaps, that I have made a howling success out of myself, don't you? When I was in high school, I wrote sports for the Charlotte Observer, but now I write sports for the Charlotte Observer.

As you requested I have secured some information on a few of our old school chums for you. Since I work for the Observer, I found most of my information in this morning's edition of the paper.

On the Sports page I found that Bill Pearman and Joe Church are coaching the Rosebowl-bound Blue Devils of Duke University . . . George Ham and Bob Groves are playing pro-football up in Detroit . . . Barry Payne has just been chosen the most valuable baseball player of 1954 . . . Bill Cobb's Harding Rams rolled over a rugged football team from Podunk last night to the tune of 7-6.

Looking through the Obituary column, I noticed that . . . No, I guess we'd better not go into that.

I noticed a story on the second front about new teachers at Harding this year. Among them are Harry (blow-em-to-bits) Bizzell, teaching chemistry; Louise Ramsey, teaching Math (her speciality is SOLID geometry); Kenneth Johnson, teaching music; and Bill Latimer, teaching English 12. Rumors are flying that Ida Lockey is going to teach Algebra I and II.

Glancing over the entertainment list for tonight in Charlotte, I see that Boyce Ranson's follies, featuring the blonde foursome—Doris Redding, Barbara Neal, Patty Kiser, and Jean Carter—is playing at the Broadway . . . Hubba Hubba Landis and Snookie Nunis are starring in their first big hit tonight at the Carolina Theater. The movie, "No Squares Allowed," is written by Billy Diamonduras . . . Ed Proctor has bought a circus, which is in town tonight. He employs several former Harding students. Essie Atkins is his fat woman. What happened? She started taking vitamin pills and they got to be such a habit with her that she couldn't stop. Bob Fortenbury owns a sideshow in the circus. In his act, Wagon Wheels Hoover charms snakes while Shine Graham throws knives at the Grier Twins . . . O yeah, here's something else. The sophisticated Charlotte Sympathy Orchestra (man they need it) is playing in the armory tonight. Frank Roberts plays in the orchestra and Betty Johnson is to be their guest soloist.

Jean Foster writes a society column in the paper which she calls "Why Talk About Yourself When You Can Talk About Someone Else." Boy, does she fill that thing full of dirt. After digging around about an hour, I came up with some dope on a few old Harding girls. I found Nancy Bowen, who is now singing in the Metropolitan Opera House, and Lois Cox, who runs a dancing school, are both collecting alimony from the same millionaires . . . Virginia Armstrong is getting married tomorrow for the third time. She and Tommy Manville would really make a good pair. Peggy Johnson and Pauline Hawkins, both the "cream of society," gave Virginia a shower last night. I hear that she has a storeroom to keep all her presents in.

Well, Jack Thompson has done it again. Yes, he just outran the new Army jet plane, ZOOM. The Army has asked if he will sell his plans for his Essex speedster . . . A new comic strip, "Lena's Sister," drawn by Bobby Little, is appearing daily in our paper.

A large number of our former chums are now running their own businesses. I became very aware of this fact when I was scanning the advertising section. Floogie Skidmore runs a motorcycle shop called "Smith, Smith, Smith and Skidmore." Her partners are Albert Smith, Bobby Smith, and Harry Smith . . . Margaret Proctor and Nancy Thacker run a hat shop named "Don't Be Afraid of Your Husband Hat Shop" . . . Louise Smith owns a Find You A Husband Company and has for her slogan "If I Can't Find You A Husband, You Can Have One of Mine." . . . John Wilson has bought out Tate Brown and employs Bill Patterson to count his money . . . Leroy Pace opened up a trucking company called "Speed, Inc." . . . Jerry Herald bought out James' Garage and has Nate Cobb working for him.

I saw Patsy Severs and "Bit" Wherry up here at the sports office the other day. I guess they are still trying to get the picture of the girls championship basketball team of 1947 in the paper.

We have a bang up law enforcement group in Charlotte. With Eugene Hargett at the helm and John Glucas as assistant of the police force, Charlotte's murders have dropped from 38,496,545 to 38,496,544 . . . Justice reigns with a heavy hand since Robert Holthouser became Charlotte's judge. His slogan is "Pay Up Or Shut Up." Helen Leckie, Peggy Horton, and Betty Lou McElhane are all working in the law office for different lawyers.

You should come to see me at the Observer. The staff is made up largely of Harding students. Margy Holliman is the editor; Wallace Burgess, business manager; Dwight Ham, photographer along with Robert Leonard; Barbara Clapp and Dot McKee, reporters; and Betty Ellington and Ona Godfrey, stenographers.

By the way, do you remember how you, Don Harkey, Fred Thompson, and I used to get a five dollar lunch for fifty-cents at the Waffle Shop by flirting with the waitresses? Well, I hear that Don and Fred are still at it.

I guess that just about included everybody. Write me sometime when you don't have taxes on your mind.

DONALD NEAL, Class Prophet.

CLASS POEM

Our high school years seem like a day:
We entered with the Dawning,
And set out in the bright new way
Of growing and of learning.

The Noon-time passed us fleetly by,
Leaving just behind us
Our carefree days in junior high
And ties that still do bind us.

The lengthy afternoon we've spent
In gaining education,
And now the Sunset represents
The time of graduation.

Whatever to our future lives
Tomorrow's Dawn imparts,
Memories of Harding High
Will linger in our hearts.

CLASS SONG

The time has come when we must say good-bye
To friends we've known and loved at Harding High;
With sad and weary hearts we wish the best
To those who follow us to stand the test.

Our Alma Mater days we hold so dear,
To show we loved it we will shed a tear;
We know that we must tread along life's way,
But when we leave here, we still will say:

That all our days spent here were well worth-while,
And on our faces there will spread a smile;
In each sad heart gay memories will lie,
That's why we linger here to say good-bye.
